Highlander Construction & Development Awarded Builder of the Year by the New River Valley Home Builder's Association

Blacksburg VA – January 31, 2009: The New River Valley Home Builder's Association awarded Highlander Construction & Development its most prestigious award this past Saturday night designating the company as "Builder of the Year" at its annual Inaugural Gala which was held at the Holiday Inn in Blacksburg.

The Builder of the Year Designation is voted on by the General Membership and is awarded to an active member who is building or completed an exceptional project in the New River Valley during the previous year and who operates and builds with quality and integrity in mind.

Said company President James Oliver, "we are blessed to have many great quality builders and developers in the New River Valley, and for a moment in time, to be acknowledged as the best by our peers in the industry is both an honor and privilege. We look forward to doing all we can in the future to continue to be worthy of this recognition."

For more information please contact James Oliver at (540) 239-1396.
